Case Notes:

COGSA AND FIRE STATUTE: Vessel owner bears the burden of proving that it personally exercised due diligence to make its ship seaworthy to escape liability for a fire caused by an unseaworthy condition. Nissan Fire & Marine Insurance Co., Ltd. v. M/V Hyundai Explorer, 93 F.3d 641, 1996 AMC 2409 (9th Cir. 1996) ..... Joseph P. Tabrisky 359
LONGSHORE ACT: To be covered by the LHWCA, the site of a maritime employee injury must be in one of the enumerated areas of § 903(a) or other area that is contiguous to or otherwise touching navigable waters. Sidwell v. Express Container Service, Inc., 71 F.3d 1134, 1996 AMC 995 (4th Cir. 1995), cert. denied, 116 S. Ct. 2570 (1996); and Parker v. Director, OWCP, 75 F.3d 929, 1996 AMC 972 (4th Cir.), cert. denied, 117 S. Ct. 58 (1996) ..... Douglas P. Matthews 167
LONGSHORE ACT: Whether the "turnover duty" or "active operations duty" applies to longshoremens' claim under LHWCA is not important, rather, the existence of a hazard is the determining factor in shipowners' liability. Serbin v. Bora Corp., Ltd., 96 F.3d 66 (3d Cir. 1996) ..... Elisa A. Roberts 527
MARITIME LIENS: Because the shipowner's charter party lien on subfreights arises by operation of law, the Anti-Assignment Act does not invalidate a lien on subfreights owed by the United States. St. John Marine Co. v. United States, 92 F.3d 39, 1996 AMC 2894 (2d Cir. 1996) ..... Charles S. Donovan 351
PROCEDURE: Remand of case on grounds that actions arising under Death on the High Seas Act are not removable from state courts was not appealable because it was remand for "defect in removal procedure." Pierpoint v. Barnes, 94 F.3d 813 (2d Cir. 1996) ..... David J. Bederman, Elizabeth A. Snodgrass 369
